Beyond vampire girl, Kamibashi has plenty of Halloween minded dolls to please any child (or adult) such as Little Frank shown above, a spooooooky ghost, a broom riding witch, the headless horseman, the grim reaper, Charlie Ribs and many more. For kids who don't like Halloween scares as much, there's also the cuter and less spooky Punkin, Scarecrow and Radar the bat. All members of the String Dolls clan are now officially Fair Trade certified — and they are all handmade ethically in Thailand with one long piece of string and cool added embellishments. Also, each String Doll has his or her own special power that is always positive and helpful, and these are fun dolls for the whole family. Plus, they're affordable at just $10 each. Note: due to small parts, very young children should not play with String Dolls.
